While the standard tithe is 10% of your gross income, many people work towards that call with proportional giving. This means that you start at the 3% or 5% level and work your way each year to giving more until you reach the full tithe of 10%.

As you think about this, consider the following: Everything we own or receive is on loan and has been freely provided by God. All He asks is that we make a conscious decision to live on 90% of it, and make 10% available for His work.

What about other charitable organizations, some of them Christian-based that are also committed to God's work? Do donations to such entities as Salvation Army, the Rescue Mission, or Beach Care Services count as part of the 10%?

That's entirely up to you to decide through prayerful consideration.
